

N4 gets major upgrade

by Waldie Volschenk and Erick Pietersen

RUSTENBURG - The N4-Platinum Highway will become a dual carriageway in the vicinity of Bapong and Hartbeespoort Dam. Construction work already commenced late last year and according to a spokesperson for the Bakwena Platinum Corridor Concessionaire, Ms Charmaine van Wyk, the company will spend almost R500 million on the project, which will involve the construction of an additional carriageway between the R512 West and the Marikana Interchange.

This is the first phase of a planned four phases to upgrade a 38km-section of the route and it will also include the widening of bridges at the same time.

Construction on the first phase is expected to be completed by August this year, while construction on the remaining phases of the project would follow in 2011, 2012 and 2013. In addition, Bakwena will also start to add additional lanes at the Kameeldrift Interchange (N1 and N4) in March, while the North West Provincial Government and the Rustenburg Municipality, as part of their 2010 strategy, will undertake the upgrading of the existing t-junction west of Rustenburg in the Donkerhoek area. This intersection will become a full freeway interchange and the work is currently being undertaken.

Periodic and routine maintenance continues to be carried out on the whole road including repairs to plaza slabs.

Van Wyk further assured motorists that the work currently being undertaken will not have an impact on the toll fees, as annual toll fee increases are prescribed in the concessionaire's contract with the South African National Roads Agency (SANRAL), which is linked to the consumer price index (CPI). The funding for the upgrade comes from bank loans and will be repaid from the income of toll fees collected on the route.

Van Wyk said there should be minimal disruption to traffic during the construction period; she however urged motorists to proceed along this section with caution and thanked them for their co-operation and patience while the improvements are carried out.

Motorists on the Bakwena N4 Platinum Toll road can look forward to improved driving conditions as soon as August of 2010. At least R500 million will be spend over the next four years to upgrade the existing single carriageway sections between the R512 West and the Marikana Interchange.

Waar om aan te klop

RUSTENBURG - Na aanleiding van probleme wat verbruikers van voorafbetaalde elektrisiteit onlangs ondervind het, het Rustenburg Herald van dié voorvalle met Conlog, die maatskappy wat die eenhede voorsien opgeneem.

Daar was onder meer gevalle waar verbruikers voorafbetaalde elektrisiteit by 'n agent gekoop het. Die boodskap wat op die verbruiker se selfoon ontvang is, was heel in orde, wat gelui het: 'We are aware of your electricity token request - your activation number will be send to you shortly.'

Na verskeie pogings - nadat die verbruiker die 20 syfers wat op sy kaart aangedui was op sy toestel ingesleutel het - het dit egter geen eenhede aangedui nie.

OPGELOS
Dié probleem is met Conlog, die verskaffer van voorafbetaalde elektrisiteit opgeneem is reggestel.

Rustenburg Herout se navrae het tussen bevestig dat sulke gevalle hoogs uitsonderlik is.
